Component Mission

The Office of the Assistant Director of National Intelligence for Policy and Strategy (OADNI/P&S) is responsible for developing and coordinating Intelligence Community (IC)-wide policy; setting IC strategy; overseeing and promoting responsible information sharing and safeguarding; managing the execution of the DNI's controlled access program responsibilities; and advising the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) on initiatives. P&S' overriding aim is to build a more integrated, collaborative, and secure community.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Lead and oversee the formulation, development, production and evaluation of a broad range of policies, processes, and guidance on subject areas including mission enabling functions, and intelligence oversight disciplines and communicate these policies, processes, and guidelines to community stakeholders.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Expert knowledge of IC and related U.S. Government policies, directives, and standard operating procedures and superior ability to develop a broad range of IC-wide policies, processes, and guidelines.
- Expert knowledge of the U.S. Government and its IC components, missions, and interrelationships and experience working either with or in a major U.S. Government or IC organization; superior understanding of the authorities, roles, and responsibilities of the organizations within the IC community.

Desired Requirements

- The Policy Division of ODNI/P&S is a small office that provides officers a great opportunity to make a difference. Policy officers work with all IC elements and ODNI components in developing IC policies on high-interest topics. Because they are responsible for the policy development cycle from inception to issuance, Policy officers have a unique opportunity to learn about the missions, authorities, and activities of the IC elements and to affect the direction of the Community. Along with their work on policy development, officers also focus on special projects, as required, often coming from the ADNI or the DNI Front Office. Policy officers also participate in various fora that consider broader issues of policy and governance, such as the DNI's Transparency Initiative and the IC Information Technology Enterprise. Strong candidates have excellent negotiating, writing, and speaking skills. Experience in writing or coordinating policy is helpful, as the development of IC policy depends greatly upon the ability to balance equities and reconcile competing views, all while remaining true to the strategic intent for the policy.
